Instructions:

Homeowners installing their own Manufactured Home must have the installation inspected by a certified inspector.

Follow all manufacturer's installation instructions. Where site conditions are different than those described in the manufacturer's installation instructions, the installation must be designed by a registered professional engineer or architect to meet the same goals as those in the manufacturer's installation instructions.

Manufacturer's Installation Manual must be available for the inspection. If alternative installation methods are used, the supporting documents must be available for the inspection.

Post this PERMIT in a window so it is visible from the outside of the home and protected from weather. Installer must notify inspector for inspection.

This permit is valid for 30 days from the date issued and may be extended for an additional 30 days upon written approval from the inspector.
